'Bullish' KeyBank opens new Bridgeport branch

BY STEVE LAW

Pamplin Media Group, Jun 19, 2009 (2 Reader comments)

Cleveland's KeyBank opens a new bank branch Monday near Bridgeport Village in Tigard. The banking company also announced plans to open many more branches in the Portland market.

The new branch, at The Pointe at Bridgeport, 7152 S.W. Hazelfern Road, is Key Bank's third in the Tigard and Tualatin area and 38th Portland-area branch.

The company expects to open another branch in Portland's Pearl District in September, and one in East Gresham in October.

The company also announced plans to build up to 20 Portland-area branches in the next two to three years.

"Oregon and Southwest Washington comprise one of the most promising markets in Key's 13-state community bank branch network," said Brian Rice, president of Key's Oregon and Southwest Washington district. "At a time when some financial institutions are retrenching, we are bullish on Oregon."
